– LA SALLE UNIVERSITY –

On May 24, 1984, Governor Dick Thornburgh of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania officially granted University status to La Salle College.

The name La Salle University may take some time getting used to, but the institution will continue to serve the community as it has since its founding in 1863.

"As our destiny is in our own hands, there is every reason to be confident that we can retain and enhance our emphasis on the excellent teaching of undergraduates and on the relaxed accessibility of faculty and administrators to students," said La Salle President Brother Patrick Ellis. "Class size, activities, availability of computers and the like should not change except for the better."

Founded by the Brothers of Christian schools, La Salle is named for St. John Baptist de La Salle, founder of the Christian Brothers. The institution which began as a one-building academy in center city Philadelphia is now a 78-acre, 36-building campus in Philadelphia's Germantown section.

The La Salle day and evening faculty numbers 212 with degree programs offered in Arts, Science and Business. With a student-faculty ratio of 16-to-1 and an average class size of 21, students can be assured of as much personal guidance as needed from faculty members. This commitment to the individual has always been a major tenet of the Christian Brothers' goals for La Salle.

Among the major buildings on campus are the David Leo Lawrence Memorial Library; the Roland Holroyd Science Center with facilities for study and research in Biology, Chemistry, Geology, Physics, and Psychology; the Olney Hall classroom building; and the College Union which houses offices for most student activities and clubs and is the main meeting place on campus.

The athletic department is housed in Hayman Hall. The facility includes the 1700-seat Joseph Kirk Natatorium, three regulation-sized basketball courts, a 12 laps/mile suspended running track, weight training and exercise areas, a sauna, squash courts and a medical training area.

La Salle students come from 200 public and private schools in 30 states, and 20 countries. The dormitories house more than 1100 students in 11 residence halls and two apartment complexes. More than 75% of the student body goes on to graduate study, with more than 1000 degrees conferred annually on day and evening division seniors.

La Salle students have been awarded 56 Fulbright grants since 1970, a total exceeded by only one other institution in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. According to a recent survey, La Salle ranked in the top 6% nationally among private undergraduate institutions originating Ph.D.'s (58th of 943 colleges and universities).

"I am certain that as a university, La Salle not only will continue, but expand that tradition of excellence," said Pennsylvania Governor Dick Thornburgh on granting La Salle university status.

It is a tradition that is being renewed by La Salle University.

– PRESIDENT – BROTHER F. PATRICK ELLIS, F.S.C., Ph.D.

Brother Patrick Ellis was installed as President of La Salle College on January 1, 1977 and now has the honor of leading La Salle into a new era as a University.

A member of the Brothers of the Christian Schools since 1946, Brother Patrick first joined the La Salle staff in 1960 as a professor of English. He has been associated with La Salle since that time, except for a term as principal of La Salle High School in Miami, FL from 1962-1964. He returned to Philadelphia in 1964, and was the Director of La Salle's Honors Program until 1969 when he was named Director of Development and Vice President of the Corporation.

A native of Baltimore, MD, Brother Patrick graduated from Calvert Hall College High School in 1946, received an A.B. degree in English from Catholic University in 1951, and earned his master's degree and doctorate in English from the University of Pennsylvania.

He first was assigned to the Philadelphia area in 1951 when he joined the staff at West Catholic High School for Boys. In the 10 years he was there he served as Chairman of the English Department and as Guidance Director.

Active in numerous national and local organizations, Brother Patrick is a member of the Board of Trustees of Manhattan College, St. Mary's College (Winona, MN), and St. John's College High School (Washington, DC).

He is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the 220-member Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities; President of the James A. Finnegan Foundation, which fosters state government internships; and Chairman of Philadelphia's Campus Boulevard Corporation, a cooperative organization of institutions located adjacent to La Salle.

Brother Patrick is also vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, and on the boards of the American Council on Education; the Greater Philadelphia First Corporation; Philadelphia's Urban Affairs Partnership; Friends of Independence Hall; the Police Athletic League; and the Salvation Army. He has been named to a second three-year term on the Philadelphia Diocesan Council of Managers.

Brother Patrick has authored numerous articles in educational publications, and conducted a "How to Read Great Books" series for the "University of the Air" on Philadelphia's WFIL-TV in 1961 and 1965. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he was president of the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Philadelphia for two terms.

Brother Patrick has been an avid devotee of the arts all his life, and has performed in several productions over the years, the last being "Knickerbocker Holiday" at La Salle's Summer Theater in 1971. His sketches of local scenes frequently adorn his personal notes and Christmas cards. He has sung the National Anthem at a number of La Salle basketball games, and before four Philadelphia Phillies games at Veterans Stadium.

– DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS – BILL BRADSHAW

Bill Bradshaw has been a success in several fields, as a college and professional baseball player, college coach, and now as Director of Athletics at La Salle University.

A 1969 graduate of La Salle, Bradshaw was named Director of Athletics and Recreation at his alma mater in December, 1977.

Under his leadership, the La Salle athletic program has expanded to 21 varsity sports, championships in two conferences, and appearances in post-season championship competition in several sports. In the fall of 1983, Explorer teams switched to the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference from the East Coast Conference, which meant all new schedules and opponents for every team. La Salle's men and women responded by winning the Commissioner's Cup for overall conference athletic superiority for both the 1983-84 and 1984-85 school years.

This success after a major change in scheduling showed the solidity of La Salle's athletic programs under Bill Bradshaw. In addition, La Salle athletes maintained a graduation rate of 90%, a stronger testament to the overall program.

Bradshaw was a second baseman during his collegiate baseball days, captaining the 1969 La Salle team and finishing his career with a .415 batting average as a senior, and a .362 career average. He played minor league baseball in the Washington Senators/Texas Rangers chain, with a career .315 average before a broken ankle ended his playing career.

Before returning to La Salle, he earned a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Niagara University. He also coached the Purple Eagle baseball team for two years, leading the 1974 team to a school record 29 victories. While Bradshaw was residing in Niagara Falls, NY, of which he is a native, he also coached an American Legion team to the 1971 New York State Championship, featuring Rick Manning at shortstop, now an All-Star Milwaukee Brewers outfielder.

The 38-year-old Bradshaw was elected president of the Eastern College Basketball Association during the summer of 1985, and will serve in that capacity for two years. He is also Chairman of both the MAAC Men's Basketball and Men's and Women's Swimming Games Committees. During the summer of 1985, he was one of five American college athletic directors to serve as a Director of the first Shamrock Games, held in Ireland. He is the third Director of Athletics at La Salle, succeeding Jim Henry (1941-69) and Jack Conboy (1969-1977).

- HEAD COACH - BILL "SPEEDY" MORRIS

When Speedy Morris became head coach of La Salle's women's basketball program in August, 1984, both he and the University made major commitments.

Morris was one of the most prolific high school boys' coaches in the country. In 16 seasons as a head coach (14 at Roman Catholic, 2 at Penn Charter in Philadelphia), his teams had won 387 games, losing just 96; won seven league titles; one City championship; and two National Catholic Tournament championships. The name "Speedy" was as recognizable among basketball aficionados as any nickname in the country.

The team never ceased to improve in its first season under Speedy's guidance, finishing with a best-ever 22-8 record, five new school team season or game records, and eight new school individual season or game records.

For Speedy, his first collegiate season enhanced his reputation for being one of the best basketball coaches, on any level, in the country. When the Explorers topped Manhattan, 88-61, in Hayman Hall on Jan. 15, it was the 400th victory for Speedy's teams, in high school and college.

It also proved to be a near-tragic day. Speedy was involved in an automobile accident after that game, that left him hospitalized for two weeks following emergency surgery. Without him, the team played with renewed dedication, winning four of six games, both losses on the road and one of those in overtime. On his return, the team finished the season with a 5-2 mark, both losses by one point to eventual MAAC champion Holy Cross.

After one season, the merger of Speedy Morris and La Salle has been a success. The rise of La Salle's women's basketball program on a national scale should be Speedy.

Morris is a native of Philadelphia, and resides in the city's Manayunk section with his wife Margaret Mary and four children, Keith, 15, Brian, 14, Margaret Mary, 13 and Christopher, 6.

For the University, it meant a commitment to a top drawer women's basketball program. That commitment was already firm with the annual eight-team holiday tournament in Hayman Hall, but it would now intensify.

All questions about Speedy's decision to coach women on the collegiate level were quickly answered when the team won the Finast Gold Cup Tournament at the University of Connecticut, the first regular-season tourney title for a La Salle women's team, and followed with impressive showings at both the La Salle Invitational and Miami Women's Court Classic in the first month of the season.

– ASSISTANT COACHES –

KATHY HEMSLEY

A 1978 graduate of St. Joseph's, Kathy Hemsley is in her fifth season as an assistant on the La Salle staff. A native of the Philadelphia area, she was an assistant woman's coach at Swarthmore, graduate assistant at Temple, and assistant at Bishop McDevitt High School before joining the La Salle staff. In addition to her duties with the basketball team, Kathy is also a certified athletic trainer, and has worked in that capacity with several area high schools and colleges, including La Salle.

RICH PRENDERGAST

Like Speedy Morris, Rich Prendergast is a veteran of the Philadelphia CYO and Catholic League high school system, having coached on all levels of competition. Unlike Speedy, he has experience in women's basketball, joining the La Salle staff following a successful four-season stint at Hallahan High School (77-34, two Catholic League playoff appearances). A 1960 graduate of La Salle, Prendergast was a second baseman on the first Explorer baseball team coached by current head coach Gene McDonnell.

GINA TOBIN

Former La Salle standout, Gina Tobin joins the staff, filling the vacancy left by Marge Mannion. The captain of last year's team, Gina was a member of the 1982 East Coast Conference Championship team. Her 923 career points place her in sixth place on La Salle's all-time scoring list, while 342 career assists place her second all-time.
